

Legislature the perfect pitch for rugby on wheels

Athlete Teri Thorson, left, shows Minister of Employment and Income Assistance Claude Richmond how to play rugby in a wheelchair in front of the B.C. legislature yesterday. The B.C. government has given a $225,000 grant to the B.C. Wheelchair Sports Association, with a portion of the money going toward a modified passenger van that will transport athletes and equipment to events around the province.

Debra Brash/Times Colonist